An introduction to the Professional Diploma in Education (Further Education)

This part time programme is intended to equip students with a range of knowledge and skills related to the profession of teaching in Further Education and Training settings. It combines blended learning and educational placements.

The Professional Diploma in Education (Further Education) course meets the professional requirements for registration with the Teaching Council as established under Teaching Council Regulations 2011. The Professional Diploma is accredited by Trinity College Dublin, the University of Dublin and the award is placed at Level 8 on the National Framework of Qualifications. This course can be completed over one year flexible learning or two years part-time and carries 60 credits.

Who is the programme for?

This programme meets the academic and professional requirements of teachers working in Further Education and Training. It is designed to be attractive to those already working in the Further Education sector, or those wishing to enter the sector.

What will I study?

The curriculum includes Foundation Studies, Professional Studies and a Practical Teaching Programme. The practical teaching programme includes educational placements involving both observation and assessed teaching practice.

What are the programme aims?

- To prepare students to develop their knowledge, skills, competences and understanding in order to teach in Further Education and Training.
- To provide a foundation in the theories and practices of lifelong learning, including andragogical approaches to teaching & learning.
- To develop teaching styles and methodologies appropriate to a wide range of learners and contexts.
- To develop the theoretical understanding and practical skills to devise and implement programme-appropriate assessment for national certification.
- To provide supervised and supportive practical teaching experience in authentic Further Education settings.

How is the programme assessed?

A variety of assessment modes such as reflective journals, presentations, research projects and portfolios, written examinations and assignments are used on the programme.

What are my career opportunities?

The Professional Diploma in Education (Further Education) meets the professional requirements of regulation five (further education) of the Teaching Council Regulations. Graduates can apply for teaching positions within the Further Education and Training sector; including Colleges of Further Education, Post-Leaving Cert programmes, SOLAS training centres, Youthreach, Adult and Community Education programmes. Many graduates have successfully secured employment with local Education and Training Boards.

Minimum entry requirements

An honours degree (level 8) OR an ordinary degree (level 7) plus an appropriate additional qualification or a certified accreditation of prior learning based on a minimum of 3 years' experience in a setting which is relevant to the candidate's qualifications. The selection process will include attending an interview.
